Survey Is Started On Freeway

Firemen's Ball Is Friday!

"Firebelles" like Beverly Bodie, 7150 Broadway, are boosting ticket sales for the Firemen's Benefit Dance which is to be held at Friendship Hall, Friday.

Purchaser is Pierce Shibley, 4141 Rolando Blvd., who readily makes a purchase of a ticket which will entitle him to an evening of dancing, a chance on several valuable door prizes, the privilege of seeing a charming queen crowned and a firebelle chosen.

The queen will be Mrs. Elizabeth Parsons, 7634 Church, whose son, Tom, is one of the fire commissioners. Mrs. Parsons was named "Mother" of the Lemon Grove Fire Department, recently.

The program for the evening has been arranged by the firemen and the firemen's auxiliary. The latter designed and made the queen's gown.

The dance is open to the public and all funds go into the Firemen's Fund. Food and drink will be provided.

Andeck Tells Civic Assn. About Boroughs

Andrew Andeck, Executive Manager of the La Jolla Town Council and Joseph Padgett, of the City Planning Commission, spoke at a meeting of the Greater Lemon Grove Civic Association Monday night, on the borough form of city government, made legal in California in last November's election. This system allows portions of a city to be treated legislatively differently than other portions, giving each portion local control of certain facilities and regulations as desired by that area. This type of city government is new to California; division of costs of such a plan would have to be worked out to the satisfaction of the borough being established and the city of which it is part. The desirable point of such a system is that the area retains is autonomy while receiving advantages of a larger city government.

Ralph Luckenbach, assistant district engineer for the State Highway Department will be speaker at the June 15th meeting.

Dr. C. W. Brown, Mr. Issott and Mr. Ellis were elected to the board of directors of the Association.

The next meeting of the Association will be at 8:00 p. m. Monday, June 15th, at the Woman's Club. A representative from the State Highway Department will speak on plans for the new freeway for Lemon Grove.

Incorportion Forum Sees November Election

The last in a series of four public forums will be held next Wednesday evening in the San Miguel School at 8:00 p. m., sponsored by the Lemon Grove Home Rule Association.

The Association is a group proposing incorporation of Lemon Grove into a sixth class city. Subject of the forum will be similar to the previous three, "Why Incorporation for Lemon Grove."

It was disclosed at last week's forum, held in the Monterey Heights school, that the Home Rule group hopes to have the election on whether or not Lemon Grove citizens wish to incorporate in early November. It was brought out during the course of the evening that a newly created city must file certain applications with state agencies by Feb. 1 of any year in order to qualify for tax refunds and to become eligible for that year's property tax.

Sumner Alpert, forum chairman, stated that it is the opinion of the Home Rule group that if incorporation is approved at an elecion, the interval between November and February will pro-

S. V. Sanitation District Tax Change To Save Money

The County Board of Supervisors this week were advised by the California Attorney General's office that the forthcoming Spring Valley Sanitation District election was legal.

Protests were launched by Spring Valley citizens that the newspaper in which the election legal advertising appeared was not properly adjudicated to carry such advertising.

Supervisor Bird said that it appeared now that an election would be held sometime this fall.

A State bill was recently passed which would tend to reduce the ad valorum tax of Spring Valley property owners by pouring service or hook-up charges into a common sanitation district jackpot.

This would go into reducing the tax burden, Bird said.

Preliminary survey work has already started on the new multi-million dollar freeway which will skirt Lemon Grove, according to Ralph B. Luckenbach, assistant district engineer of the State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways in District 11.

The preliminary survey, he pointed out, will probably include an area two blocks wide along a general line of the proposed freeway. This work would take 60 to 90 days after which a final survey would be made to determine the exact location of the route.

The Highway Committee of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce this week unanimously endorsed the building of the new freeway and offered to support fully the Board of Supervisors in expediting the project.

The final survey should be completed by the end of 1953 if all goes smoothly, he believes.

In any event it is apparent the actual work on the freeway cannot be begun before 1954 and similiar projects in the northern part of the state have required at least 2 years for compleion.

Many home owners in the Grove area concerned about the route passing through their property were checking with this newspaper and county officials to gain route information. Luckenbach pointed out earlier that

A public meeting early next month will be held with the real estate purchasing department of the State Highway Department at which time approximate appraisals and precise routes of the freeway will be revealed for the benefit of affected local property owners.

the route could not be given until the survey, at least the preliminary part of it had been completed.

In the past, and based on similar projects, property owners

MIL'S MUSINGS

By Richard Milbrodt

WHEN THE DEMURE mistress of ceremonies opened the festivities at last Friday's Spring Sing, an annual State College affair, sprinkles of laughter reverbrated through the audience. "There has been a last minute change in the program," she sweetly said, "Kappa Alpha has been scratched." (Kappa Alpha being one of the fraternities entering the songfest.) And then she added, "I repeat, scratch Kappa Alpha and enter Pi Kappa Alpha, formerly in third position now moved to the lead." Wonder where she learned to announce like that?

BETCHA DIDN'T KNOW that most people can drink just as easily sitting down as they can standing up. But few people can stand up as well after they've been drinking sitting down as they can sit down after drinking standing up.

OUT OF THE MAILBOX comes a query from a reader who wonders whatever happened to the Lemon Grove Pow-Wow. Lack of an angel to sponsor the event seems to be the main trouble from what we can find. Our reader states that it would be a good project to renew and would bring the spotlight of publicity on Lemon Grove. A good idea, except that with the great competition existing today between communities and their festivals,

Touch-And-Go On Patricia's Opening

It's going to be touch and go in a contest between Patricia Mahoney and her painters and carpenters, but it appears likely that she may get her new Women's Sportwear Shop open Saturday of this week.

Patricia's, 7887 Broadway, is in the new Sprouse - Reitz building and is one of the three new shops scheduled for opening this month in Lemon Grove.

The other two shops are actually new locations to be operated by present Lemon Grove business people.

C. P. Appliances is scheduled to move to 7850-52 Broadway in the premises now occupied plus the premises to be vacated by Rella's Shoes.

Rella's will move into the store building adjacent to C. P., a shop which Ralph and Anna Rella are building at 7854-56-58-

'Cafeteria' County Service To Boost Tax Rate

Lemon Grove residents and other Californians living outside cities will soon be able to purchase any desired government services from the county like a customer in a cafeteria under the tems of the new "county service area law."

The bill making this possible was approved by Governor Warren just before he left for the coronation in England.

Fire protection, police protection, neighborhood parks and recreation programs are among the important services which the new law enables the county to extend to the residents of any area who may ask for them. According to the County Supervisors Association of California, basic county governmental services will be provided as at present and will not be changed by the new law.

County representatives deny that the new law will mean automatic increased taxation for residents of unincorporated urban areas. They say that there will be a few instances of tax burden reshuffling, but only with the consent of the residents of the areas affected. The normal situation will be that where the residents ask the county to provide a special extended service.

The new act will apply only to "extended" services, by which the law makers mean special services given to the residents of one area over and above those proveded all over the county. For instance, if a neighborhood desires a sheriff's substation with patrol cars, it may secure them under the new law by paying the

Solleder's Trip Pays Off — In Teachers

Despite the acute teacher shortage in the state, Lemon Grove has been fortunate in securing many teachers with outstanding scholastic qualifications and high professional recommendations to fill vacancies existing in the district due to resignations and new classrooms. As a result of a recent tour by S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent, these new teachers will come to the community in early fall:

In the kindergarten classes, Sara Fuqua, former S. D. teacher, who resides in Brookside, holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Iowa.

Business People To Meet With Home Rule Ass'n.

An important Businessmen's Conference has been called for Monday night, June 8 at the Lemon Grove Youth Center by the Lemon Grove Home Rule Association. Every person owning or running a business in Lemon Grove, Monterey Heights, or Vista La Mesa is urged to attend.

Purpose of the Conference will be to inform all merchants on the factual elements of incorporation, a Home Rule spokesman said. Time of the meeting has been set for 8:00 p. m. Urgently calling for every business person to attend the Conference, John Dail said, "it is imperative that the facts and figures on incorporation be given to the business men in a straight forward manner."

"This will be the opportunity for all merchants to get all the facts in the same way, and at the same time," Dail added. It is hoped that two speakers will be brought in to address the Conference.

Kiwanis Postpone Auction Sale Till Fall

It was a grim Kiwanis board of director's meeting which met Monday night when they decided to postpone the 2nd Annual Auction Sale, originally scheduled for Saturday, which was to raise $1,000 for floodlights for the Junior High playground.

The sale, which was originally scheduled to be held on Broadway near Carr's Hardware was cancelled out "because enough saleable items could not be collected by the Auction Sale committee."

It was decided by the board that it would be better to hold the sale in the fall and to continue collecting saleable items until enough are gathered to assure success of the project.

In lieu of the sale the board agreed to ask Kiwanis membership to throw their effort into aiding the Lions Club of Lemon Grove in their scrap iron drive.

Postal Box Rate Raised

The price of Postal Boxes will rise July 1st, according to Frenchy Faucher, Grove Postmaster.

This is the first raise since 1907 and the rates will be raised all over the United States, he said. To this schedule for Lemon Grove he has it as follows: the 75c rate will be raised to $1.10; the $1 rate to $1.50; the $1.50 rate to $2.25.

According to the postmaster, the Post Office Department is attempting to balance the budget.

Putting all pride away, doubtless there are a couple of readers of this column that attend L. G. Jr. HI. Well, for the benefit of the boys that attend this world-reknown school I'd like to publish a few of the track and field records of California high schools. Naturally no one in his right mind would expect the kids at the Junior High to come anywhere near the records of the High Schools of California, but just for kicks I thought I'd write a few for you young'uns to admire. (And for more kicks, compare a few with your records).

Two Poster-Parties recently at Helix High resulted in much fun for the following Highlanders and their friends: One, Janet Klinger, Pam Lipp, Barbara Plause, Sherry Hoss, Mary Rewicz, Carol Covert, Cynthia Fox, Larry Westfaullt, Stan Davies, Bob Turnbull, Frank McCabe, Bill Bloom, Ron Molebash, Buddy Davis, Jim Hutchins, Julius Tuite, Jim Covert and Bob Bluhm. Two, Leilani Rose, Buddy Davis, Carol Covert, Jim Hutchins, Kay Riley, Bill Bloom, Lucille Vasquez, Rosie Seward, Jim Barrow, Cynthia Fox, Bob Turnbull, Elsa Haubensak, Jim Covert, Dick Secor, Jim Terry, and Neil Nagy.

A few weeks ago if anyone of you were listening to KCBQ at 2:00 p. m. on Sunday, then you probably heard Helix High. The band (or I should say their famous record) was on. The band director, Dan Lewis, was speaking with a few of his kids, and they played both sides of our great record.

Flag Is Theme For Holiday Poem

Memorial Day meant many things to many people in Lemon Grove this year.

To the recreation minded, a trip or holiday, to the patriotic it meant decorating graves, parades and the Flag. To little Sherry Netzley, 4th grader at Monterey Heights School, daughter of Byron Netzley, elementary school superintendent, it meant patriotic poetry. This is how she felt:

The Flag

Some people think
It's just a gag,
To stand up straight
And salute the flag.

It stands for peace
And freedom too.
I really like the color
Of red, white, and blue.

It goes down in the evening
And up in the morn.
We've had this nice flag
Since freedom was born.

Incorporation Would Save $16 Say Proponents

Incorporation will mean a net saving of $16.50 to the average property owner, per year, should the people decide to have their new city perform the function of trash and garbage collection and disposal according to Grove Home Rule Association officials.

Without this service, the move to incorporate cannot cost more than $1.50 a year extra in taxes to the average property owner. Here is how it works: These figures are for an average house worth $10,000, and valued by the assessor at $3000.

The maximum permissable property tax a sixth class city can ever ask is $1.00 per $100 assessed valuation. Assuming the city of Lemon Grove would ask for full amount the first year, this would amount to $30.00 on our example house. But, simultaneously with this tax increase, a number of savings in taxes, and otherwise, will take place. Among these are a 10% average reduction in utility rates, elimination of the fire and library assessments from the tax bill, and (if the people want it) a saving of present fee paid for trash collection to a private agency.

Amount added to tax bill:	$30.00
Amount saved per year	$46.50
Less Amount additional taxes	30.00
Total net saving	$16.50
Amount deducted:
Fire assessment, 49c per $100	14.40
Library Assessment, 7c per $100	2.10
Tax saving	$16.50
Utility saving, 10% of average monthly bill, per year	12.00
Yearly trash colecting fee	18.00
Total savings	$46.50

Cities have the advantage of being able to draw upon more than one source of revenue, while special districts can draw only upon the property tax assessment. With the amount of money now being paid in by Lemon Grove taxpayers, which is due back to this area when incorporated, the first several years property rate may be very low. The heaviest it can ever be is $1.00 per $100 unless the people want to pay more money and vote such action at an election. State law provides for this ceiling. What this means to Grove property owners is that they can rest assured that their taxes will never climb above the maximum. They will have complete control of their tax money in two ways. First, they will be able to say how much they want to pay the new city, knowing it cannot go beyond the limit of $1.00, and secondly, they will have direct control on how their money is spent. This means that the money will be spent right here, improving this area, not going into the quagmire of that bottomless pit known as the County General Fund which is the absorber of all present taxes and must be distributed throughout the entire county.

Painting Tips Save Time and Money

"Good paint, properly applied, does double duty for the farmer."

So says Arthur W. Steudel, president of the Sherwin-Williams Co., and he marshals some impressive evidence to back up that belief.

"Paint protects buildings against the ravages of weather," he points out, and actually increases property values because well-cared-for buildings are always worth more than run-down structures."

For best results, paint should be carefully chosen and applied in the right way.

First rule to remember is that the cheapest paint is not necessarily the least expensive. The real cost of paint is determined by how long it will hold up before repainting is necessary. 'Weatherated' paint, scientifically formulated to resist excessive chalking, color fading, checking and loss of gloss holds up as many as four, five or six years. Thus the cost-per-year is considerably lower than that of paints with a shorter life span.

Correct application is as important as the paint itself. Paint stays put longer when applied to a properly prepared surface. It does not pay to skimp on the amount of paint. The coat of paint, after all, is all that stands between the wood and the weather. A too-thin coat can be as useless as a silk shirt in a snowstorm.

As a final precaution, Steudel urges farmers to "read the label before you use the paint. The few minutes that takes can save hours of effort."

PREPARE THE SURFACE before you paint: (1) Remove loose, flaking and blistered paint with wire brush and scraper. (2) Re-putty window sash, if needed, after removing loose putty. (3) Seal open joints with caulking material. (4) Load brush properly, dipping into paint about one-third bristle length, tapping out excess on inside of can. (5) Hold brush comfortably, use long sweeping arm strokes.

Duffners Came From Sandusky — Shop At Davis'

"We've been coming here almost every day since Davis Market opened."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duffner, 7049 Central Ave., who came to Lemon Grove in February from Sandusky, Ohio, consider shopping at Davis' one of the more enjoyable forms of recreation in southern California.

"There are no shopping centers back in Ohio like Davis'," said Mrs. Duffner. "Sooner or later market operators there will get smart and have the high quality and low prices and all the excitement of Davis Market and make shoppers happy to come to buy our weekly groceries."

Although the Duffners make purchases in all departments, the meat section is where they head first. "We find the quality higher and price lower at Davis' than any other market in town," Mr. Duffner said.

Davis Market features sufficient free parking on the west side and in the rear of their market to take care of large weekend shopping crowds. The market is located at Broadway and Olive in Lemon Grove and is open daily, including Sunday.

Mission San Diego De Alcala Visited By Lemon Grove Brownie Troop

The Monterey Heights Brownie Troop 552 visited the Mission San Diego de Alcala on May 26th. The Brownie Troop traveled by private cars to Mission Valley to visit the Mother Mission. They saw the cross marking where Father Luis Jayme, Martyr was killed by Indians on November 4th, 1775. The girls were able to hold a nail that was used in that age. Each girl gave her Brownie dues to the Mission fund. The Brownies were accompanied by Mesdames Charles Wilson, R. S. Messner, Ralph Gossett and Richard Hicks.

Fun Outdoors For Troop 552

May 22 at six o'clock, the twenty-four Brownies of Troop 552 enjoyed a stew which they fixed themselves in aluminum foil. They learned how to make a Tepee fire, and how to check a fire to tell if its out and safe to leave. Like good little Brownies they lived up to the Brownie Slogan and left the place cleaner than it was when they arrived.

Mrs. Harold Wildin, a committee mother, surprised the girls with candy bars. The cookies were made by the cookie girls for the week.

Janice Martin was invested by Mrs. Richard Hicks, Leader and Mrs. John Craig, co-leader with the aid of the whole troop. The ceremony was performed with the Brownies grouped around the campfire in their traditional horse shoe.

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

By heavy cuts in the proposed spending program for 1953-54 the lawmakers have turned a threatened deficit of $20,000,000 into a possible surplus as of June 30, 1954, and they have done so without the net increase in State revenues urged by Governor Warren in his cigaret-liquor-horse racing tax recommendations of last January.

Reacting to public sentiment against any hike in general sales tax rates or the imposition of any new taxes, both houses have trimmed the budget sufficiently to strike a balance without approving the Warren revenue suggestions.

The first Senate-Assembly conferees reached an agreement on the budget bill including a proposed increase of only about $1,000,000 in the deep Senate cut.

The conference report, requiring confirmation by both Houses, was denied by the Assembly. A new conference committee worked toward a settlement to untangle the differences between the two Houses.

The fight in the Assembly resulted in rejection of the first conference report by a vote of 38 to 34 when 54 votes are required in the Assembly. The Assembly objected principally to the decision to give state employees a 2½% insead of a 5% pay increase, and a second committee was named.

The curtailment of funds for 163 highway patrolmen.

The elimination of funds for research on sex crimes.

In addition to the other objections, I protested the elimination of funds for a narcotic enforcement branch office in San Diego and Fresno. Previously, I had been successful in securing the approval of the Ways and Means Committee and on the floor of the Assembly.

The Assembly voted 42 to 27 against withdrawal of educational television legislation from the Committee on Ways and Means. The measure would have authorized schools to purchase television equipment and contract for broadcasts. The author argued that Warren's Special Commission on educational television had recommended the legislation. Opponents took the position that the subject needed more study.

The other debate resulted in victory with the withdrawal over committee objections of a bill which would shift a tax on hard liquor and relieve state income taxpayers by increasing the state personal income tax exemptions by $1,400, which would benefit all state income taxpayers and approximately 800,000 would be relieved of the necessity of even making an income tax return.

The author also defeated an amendment to cut the hard liquor tax rate proposed in the bill from $1.50 per gallon to $1.10. The present tax is only 80c per gallon.

Assemblymen Maloney and Hahn clashed on Hahn's intimation that the Maloney amendment indicated that certain people (meaning Samish) still have influence in the Legislature. Maloney demanded an apology. "I make no apologies," snapped Hahn. The final vote was 41 to 33 with six absentees.

A proposed constitutional amendment to transfer liquor control from the State Board of Equalization to a new elecive commission.

On the Assembly file ready for floor action is a constitutional amendment which would establish a new appointive liquor commission and a liquor department director. Governor Warren has expressed opposition to any commission plan and has suggested it should be placed in the State department responsible to the Governor.

The Senae unanimously passed and sent to the Governor a bill restricting B girl activity and making it a disdemeanor for hosteses or waitresses to solicit drinks for a percentage.

Balanced Program Needed After Incorporation

Note—This is the fifth in a series on the meaning of incorporation. Publication does not necessarily mean indorsement.

V

After Incorporation

To date we have mentioned what incorporation is, how it can be brought about as provided in State law, why it is desired, and how it can be organized. Unless otherwise provided at the time of original incorporation, the mayor-council type of government is installed.

Incorporation is not a panacea for all ailments in itself. It is merely a tool to aid actual treatment. If employees are to be hired, a civil service commission should be established. To qualify for the refund of State collected taxes, applications must be filed. Deadlines must be met, competent workers appointed for top jobs, an efficient plan of operation adopted that will cover both the present and the future in a manner that is neither so ambitious it cannot be met nor so modest it retards development. These are but a few of the numerous accomplishments that need be undertaken.

The people may not be satisfied with incorporation, or the officials elected to lead it. In the latter event, the Government Code for the State of California, a guiding light in guarding the peoples' rights and broadly defining the actions of sixth class cities, has an answer. It is the referendum and recall. By this method the citizens can either create an ordinance or vote down one already passed by the council, or they can recall the elected officials. Or they can do both. The procedure is simple.

If the officials are satisfactory but incorporation is not, recourse may follow two paths. The city council can act in official capacity to consolidate with another neighboring, previously existing city, or the citizens can disincorporate the city completely. This action, similar to procedure for incorporating, converts the city back to its original status. Disincorporation, though provided for in the law, has been resorted to exceptionally few times. Consolidation, however, has been utilized on quite a few occasions.

(Next week: Conclusion of Series)

Monterey Heights PTA Notes

Monterey Heights P. T. A. had 12 members attending the Ninth District Annual Spring Workshop which was held in the First Presbyterian Church, San Diego, last week.

Mrs. Vance Dittamore, president, and Mrs. M. F. McKinney, first vice-president, attended the all day conference on Tuesday, May 26. Those present Wednesday morning, May 27, were Mrs. Ralph Tenison, second vice-president, and the following chairmen: Mrs. C. G. Hull, Mrs. M. F. McKinney, Mrs. Alvin Cardoza, Mrs. J. L. Stoner, Mrs. L. W. Kerner, Mrs. C. T. Hobbs. For the Wednesday afternoon session Mrs. Stanley Mauseth, treasurer, was present along with chairmen Mrs. C. J. Hardy, Mrs. Edward Judd and Mrs. C. E. Nelson.

Unified Dues For Grove DTA

Committee meetings occupied a major portion of the May Business meeting of the District Teachers Asociation when that group met last Thursday night at Vista La Mesa School. Following the treasurer's report, given by Hazel Mulkey, committee reports were given by Pat Walters, professional relations chairman, and Harry Butler, salary chairman. Peg Darroch reported on the recent CTA meeting, Southern Section, in Los Angeles, and the public relations meeting also held there that weekend.

Arthur Thomas, club historian, won applause for the colorful and interesting history of the organization's activities during the past year which he had written. Following the election to fill vacancies on permanent committees, association members voted unanimously to have unified dues next year. These dues will include membership in all educational organizations.

Coffee and donuts were served by the social committee following the meeting. Louis Poluzzi presided.

B - Day Is June 23

By Peg Darroch

Every adult in Lemon Grove will have an opportunity to do something for his country in the next two weeks. On Tuesday, June 23, the Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit the community at the Youth Center on School Lane from 2 p. m. until 7 p. m.

Donors are needed urgently. In Korea the blood shortage has become so acute that appeals are being made throughout Japan to provide the vital fluid to the fighting men over there. There is a surplus of blood here in America, but it can never help our soldiers unless it is donated for the worthy cause. Be sure that you do your share this month.

This same blood can be used in obtaining gamma globulin, that precious fluid that may do so much in the prevention of polio. It is needed in great quantities now for the summer months ahead. Many children may be saved from the crippling effects of the dread disease if the whole blood can be obtained now.

Be sure that you donate this month when the Bloodmobile comes to Lemon Grove! Schools, civic groups, service clubs, and churches are cooperating with the council to make this visit a gift to soldiers and children. If you do not have an opportunity to sign a pledge for the visit through one of your organizations, please leave your name, address, and phone number at the Review Office or phone one of the co-chairmen at H6-8276 or W-4250. And do it now! You may save someone's life.

COUNTY FAIR FITTING—Beth Andre (left), of San Diego, helps Marjorie Heine, Escondido, as the latter puts the finishing touch on her costume for San Diego County Fair at Del Mar, June 26—July 5. Girls are two of 27 finalists in Fairest of the Fair contest to select a queen for the big summer show.

September Workshop Set For Teachers

Although two weeks of school still remain on this term's calendar, teachers and administrators already are planning for the opening of school next September. Last week a group of teachers representing each grade level in the Lemon Grove School District met with S. K. Solleder, assistant superintendent, to help plan the pre-school workshop for teachers on September 8-11. School will formally open September 14.

The workshop agenda will include time for grade level meetings, building meetings, P. T. A. board meetings, and arrangement of rooms. A special session will be devoted to the first business meeting of the year of the Lemon Grove District Teachers Association. On Wednesday, Sept. 9, special sessions will be held for teachers new to the district.

The workshop committee included Loy Holmquist, Peg Darroch, Tom Brogan, Hal Brogan, Robert Sutton, Leota Holcomb, Louis Poluzzi, Dorothy Giessler, Marge Lowery, John Wright, and Evelyn Caldwell.

extra cost of that service over the basic cost of the standard sheriff's services.

Three years of bitter controversy by the counties and the cities preceded the general agreement which enabled the almost unanimous approval of this law by both houses of the Legislature. City residents need no longer fear the possibility of "free tax rides" at their expense by those who live outside cities.

Extensive studies by the Legislature through its interim committees have shown that very few such free tax rides actually exist. The few that do exist can be wiped out immediately by the intelligent application of the new law.

"County government will attain a degree of flexibility never before possible. The county service area law can be revolutionary in its modernizing of county government service methods" declared William R. MacDougall, general manager of the supervisors association.

The new law is the work of expert county and city attorneys. Chief draftsman of the bill was Los Angeles county counsel Harold W. Kennedy, acting in his capacity as chairman of the legal advisory committee of the supervisors association.

Many protections to the people, both as voters and as taxpayer, have been worked into the new law, according to its draftsmen. From the beginning step of a public hearing in the establishment of a county service area, on through to provisions for disolving areas, every protective device has been included for the benefit of the people.

Grossmont Area Residents Protest Freeway Routing

Opposition to the proposed freeway connecting Highway 80 in the Grossmont area to Palm Ave. resulted in formation of a committee to work with highway engineers to find alternate routes.

A public meeting is scheduled Friday at Lemon Grove School in La Mesa at 8 p. m. About 150 citizens met there last week to voice objections to the route being supported by the State Highway Department.

Among the objections outlined at the meeting according to spokesmen were:

The Highway Department plan would result in more traffic congestion at the ends of the freeway. The San Diego end in the Home Avenue area could not absorb the heavy flow of vehicles, resulting in a piling up of traffic and offsetting in advantage gained by speeding up the middle portions of the route. A bottleneck would be created in the Grossmont area where traffic would funnel in from El Cajon Boulevard, Alvarado Freeway, and the new proposed freeway.

The plan would be merely a stop-gap measure and provide no permanent solution to relieving congestion between La Mesa and El Cajon. Eventually, it would be necessary to plow up several miles of homes in El Cajon to provide a by-pass for the downtown area to move the traffic using Highway 80, opponents stated.

John MacGilvery, four years a Marine, did undergraduate work at Boston U. and received his BA degree at Arizona State, Flagstaff.

Laura Becker, a graduate of Denver U., is now doing graduate work at Tempe. She will teach girls' physical education to seventh and eighth graders.

Genevieve Olpihant, who received her BA at Iowa and her Masters at S. D. State, will teach English at the Junior high part of the school day and will devote the rest of the time to speech correction work in the elementary schools in the district.

Only two positions remain unfilled, and it is expected that those contracts will be signed shortly.

There's Music At Wigton's

Ah! There's music in the air. That seems to be what model Susie McHenry is thinking as she listens to the Musak intallation at Wigton'.

The Wigton Musak installation was the first in the Homeland telephone exchange area, according to Evelyn Wigton, shop owner. "Music," said she," is pleasing to the shoppers, it offers a complementary background for nice things for women and it also is pleasant for the employees."

The dress Susie is wearing is a squaw cotton sun style which is featured in the summer section of Wigton's.

New Dwarf Verbenas Brilliant Beauties

Verbena, long a garden favorite, is due for a fresh rise in popularity in Lemon Grove as the beauty of the new grandiflora dwarf strains becomes known. They grow but little taller than the older compacta type, rarely over a foot high. Both flower heads and individual florets, however, are much larger and brighter colored, affording a more brilliant display in flower beds. But both types are expected to retain verbena's long-standing popularity for lawn edging and curb planting.

According to the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board, verbena is generally available in Lemon Grove mixed and solid color flats. The most popular color is red, white, blue, lavender, rose, pink and white are also available. Colors come true to name except for the lavender, which sports some white.

Set out plants from flats in full sun. They can be transplanted from the time they are quite small until they are full blooming size. They prefer to be set slightly deeper than they were in the nursery flat. While verbena will tolerate any soil, it does best in a loose sandy type. The plants require a minimum of fertilizer, and no special pest control. However, foliage is subject to mildew and even watering should be held to a minimum.

Fill a bed or edge a border with a planting of verbena for an easy to care for summer time garden spot. Flowers will be plentiful and do well for cutting. For bright colors, go heavy on the reds and blues with a splash or two of the lighter colors . . . then grab your sun glases, for a bed of verbena in full bloom is a dazzling sight indeed.

SERVING THE FASTEST GROWING AREA IN THE U.S.A.
A REPORT TO OUR 380,000 Gas and Electric CUSTOMERS
Several hundred new homes are shown in this aerial view of certain privately-financed housing subdivisions. Large-scale developments such as these are springing up in fringe sections of the city and in other municipalities and unincorporated areas throughout the county.

. . . as told in our 1952 Annual Report to 20,648 stockholders:

"Ours is today a very active community. Thousands of new homes are being built, and other thousands are contemplated. Accompanying these new homes, there have been erected all of the other facilities that people must have—stores, schools, churches, libraries . . .

"For some time San Diego had believed it was the fastest growing large city in the United States, but it took the 1950 census to prove it.

"A special census in 1952 found the City of San Diego's population to be 434,924, compared with 334,387 in the official census of 1950, an increase of approximately 100,000 in two years. The other cities and towns that we serve had proportionately equal or greater growths. To summarize the effects of this kind of growth on the Company, it is only necessary to point out that our investment in physical property—plants, substations, and transmission and distribution lines—is more than twice what it was at the end of World War II."

"THE MAN UP-A-POLE"

EVERY WORK-DAY, since March 31, 1952, we have connected 47 new homes to our electric distribution system. Truly, we are serving the fastest growing area in the U.S.A., but it takes a lot of doing before a lineman goes "up-a-pole" preparing to make that final new-home connection. Before he, and hundreds like him, can weave their fine-mesh network of service lines, connecting these new homes to our electric system, many things must take place. First, there must be enough electric generating capacity at the power plant, and generators must be ordered at least three years in advance of need. Next, high-voltage transmission lines must be erected connecting the generating plants to the distribution substations centrally located at new housing developments. These substations, with their large transformers and switching equipment, stepdown the high voltage to a level that can be handled by the small pole-type transformer for residential service. And while all this is taking place, arrangements must be made for the delivery of the distribution line poles from the forests of Oregon and Washington. Also, copper wire from the mines of Montana, Utah, and Arizona.

So when you see a man "up-a-pole," actually he is making available, at the touch of your finger, a service that has required months and even years of advance planning and development.

This Company is doing everything reasonably possible to meet the unusual growth of our communities. It is recognized that under present conditions there may be regrettable delays. In such cases the patience and understanding of applicants for service will be appreciated.

Newspaper Builds New Home . . . 1878

From the Historical Collection of Union Title Insurance & Trust Company

The SAN DIEGO UNION was launched in Old Town in October, 1868. San Diegans of that time were less impatient in their quest for news, and the paper was published weekly.

Alonzo Horton was tirelessly promoting the advantages of "New" San Diego, and he prevailed upon the UNION to move its quarters to Horton's Addition, in exchange for considerable advertising. With some skepticism the paper moved to Fourth and D Street — then a considerable ways "out of town" — in 1870.

The move was a good one. By 1871 the paper was prosperous enough to launch into a "daily" — San Diego's first, and the third in Southern California. The daily newspaper was so successful that soon a new building was necessary, and this photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company shows the newspaper's new headquarters in 1878. This building was located on 6th and F Street and later, doubled in size, became the home of the postoffice.

carnivals, special events, and beauty queens, perhaps Lemon Grove would get more fame as "the place with no annual festival."

(Ed's. Note: We've got the annual St. John of the Cross Rodeo, Mil. —M. G.)

OVER AT HELIX HIGH the other day, the social science class was discussing the difference between prohibition of people's actions through law and just plain social disapproval. One lad denied the extent of freedom available if one ignored popular opinion. "Why, if I wanted to go out here and start wot-shipping snakes I could'nt," the lad declared. "There is a State law against it." The instructor didn't know here was such a law, and asked the student to state it. "I don't know the exact code number of it, but I know there is such a law," he defended, "heck, there is a law against everything today."

To this we say that things are not as black as the lad leads us to believe. All those wishing to join our Snake Worshipping Society, please line up to the right.
